Christmas waiting game for housing

A MOTHER and her four-year-old daughter face an uncertain Christmas as they wait for an eviction date from their temporary council housing.

Catherine McIntyre, of Kenilworth Road, said it was 'impossible' to get an answer from Luton council about when she had to leave. She said she was evicted from her home in June last year after her husband left and she fell ill.

She said: "When my husband left I was signed-off work and had to work part-time before being off full-time in November last year.

"I was getting housing benefit from June last year but I was already in rent arrears. I got in touch with the council when my tenancy was about to expire but they told me to stay."

Catherine said she joined the council's housing waiting list after being evicted.

However, she says when the authority eventually offered her a house, it withdrew its offer after ruling she had made herself intentionally homeless.

It then told her she would be evicted.

She added: "I would not have been evicted if I had not followed their advice, which was they could not help if I left. I had to go through the eviction but now they are saying they're not going to help me."

The council said it did not comment on individuals.

A spokesman said people assessed and ruled to have made themselves intentionally homeless were asked to leave their temporary accommodation.

He added: "However, we will always work with them to identify their housing options and any benefits they may be entitled to for help with rent or deposits.

"This is all explained to them when they first contact us."

FRUSTRATED: Catherine says she has not been given an eviction date and that private landlords will not take her on as she is in receipt of housing benefits. The council said it helps people identify the housing options open to them

'Not the end' for Ali family

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE family of Faruk Ali say they will carry on looking for justice after two policemen were cleared of assaulting him outside his home in February.

PC Christopher Thomas and PC Christopher Pitts hugged each other with relief at Aylesbury Crown Court on Wednesday as the not guilty verdict was read out and they were cleared of racially aggravated assault of Mr Ali, 33, from Luton.

Faruk's brother Dhoir Ali, 31, said on the decision: "We are very surprised and shocked to see a not guilty verdict in this case. The whole ordeal has affected the whole family really badly. It's affected Faruk, myself... everyone."

Mr Ali was quick to mention the support the whole family has received, adding: "There has been an overwhelming outpour of concern towards Faruk and our family and we are thankful for that."

Faruk, who is autistic and lives with his family as he is unable to care for himself, was carrying out his normal routine of helping put out the bins early on Thursday, February 20 when the incident happened.

Mr Ali had befriended binmen and his help had earned him the nickname 'Superman.'

The court found that while the officers had chased after Mr Ali, they were looking out for his wellbeing and that the injuries he suffered were consistent with falling into the bins and not being thrown.

Voice recordings heard the two laughing as they drove after Mr Ali.

PC Thomas, a passenger in the vehicle, was heard using the 'f' word. Aylesbury Crown Court was told he had used the term 'fing P' as he and PC Pitts drove towards Mr Ali.

In court, PC Thomas told the jury he had said "fing cracked me up".

He said he got out car and ran after and caught Mr Ali, knocking him into bins outside the family home.

The prosecution's case was that the officer punched Mr Ali in the face, but PC Thomas said he grabbed Mr Ali's coat to slow him down.

"He was large, strong and in a frantic state.

"I was saying 'Stop. Just stop there.'"

He denied punching Mr Ali.

The struggle continued inside the hallway of the family home, with Mr Ali shouting 'Uma Uma!' - Bengali for 'mum mum!'

PC Thomas denied punching Mr Ali inside the house.

PC Thomas, 33, from Welwyn

Garden City in Hertfordshire, and PC Pitts, 40, from Bedford, who between them have 24 years of police service, pleaded not guilty to all charges.

Attiq Malik, lawyer for Mr Ali said: "The incident and the trial has put the family under a huge amount of stress and given the evidence we are shocked at the outcome, especially the voice recording.

"I heard the recording for the first time on Tuesday and am shocked they managed to walk away after hearing that.

"The conclusion of the trial is not the end of the matter and we will carry on looking for justice."

WEED IT OUT: Police found two cannabis farms in Luton this week. At one address (pictured) they found 124 plants

Judges rule cannabis conviction still stands

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN caught with £54,000 worth of cannabis after his home was turned into a drugs factory must accept his conviction, judges have ruled.

Alan Joseph Fontaine, 55, of Graham Road, Dunstable, was caught with almost 280 cannabis plants and a fully-functioning growing room in his home when police carried out a raid in 2011.

He was caged for two years at Luton Crown Court in March 2012 after admitting to producing class B drugs.

On Wednesday, three judges at London's Criminal Appeal Court rejected a conviction challenge by Fontaine, who has since been released.

Mr Justice Foskett said police searched Fontaine's home in July 2011 and found plants with a potential yield in excess of 10kg and a street value of £31,000 to £54,000. They also found a growing system for the plants and that electricity had been diverted to help run the operation.

Fontaine insisted he had initially been unaware that a cannabis factory had been set up in his home by another man. He said he had demanded its removal when he realised what was going on. However, a judge rejected his account, after hearing that Fontaine's fingerprint had been found on the foil lining of a window in the growing room.

At the appeal, judges rejected his argument that he had been 'wrongly advised' to plead guilty before the case against his co-accused was dropped.

■ In a separate case this week, police found 154 cannabis plants following raids at addresses in Cranleigh Gardens and Windsor Walk in Luton. The hauls came after a member of the public reported a suspected burglary in Cranleigh Gardens and a tip-off about the house in Windsor Walk.

Notices served to Leon Briggs death officers

FOUR Bedfordshire Police officers under criminal investigation following the death of Leon Briggs (pictured below) have been served with additional gross misconduct notices.

The Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) said the notices related to the matter 'of conferring at the police post incident procedure on November 4 last year, contrary to the College of Policing's Approved Professional Practice'.

Mr Briggs died in police custody after being detained.

The police watchdog said the notices had been served to a police constable and three sergeants. Further criminal interviews with the officers and a police detention officer took place last month.

A second detention officer has been told they are no longer under criminal or misconduct investigation, but has been interviewed again by IPCC investigators as a "significant witness" to the investigation.

Bank brings trophy for fans to see

FOOTBALL fans will have the chance to see the Premier League Trophy when it arrives in Luton town centre this week.

People will be able to have their picture taken with the trophy, currently held by Manchester City, when it visits Barclays' George Street branch on Wednesday from 10am to 4pm.

The bank said its UK-wide tour of the trophy was designed to 'bring the most sought after prize in English football closer to fans'.

Running alongside the tour, the bank will host a 'market day' event where a number of businesses will be showcasing their products and services as well as a raffle in aid of a local charity.

Wahid Nawaz, Barclays business manager, said: "I am delighted to give people in Luton the chance to see the Premier League Trophy.

"Everyone is welcome to come down and have their photo taken with it."

STANDSTILL: The woman on the dome (top) and the gridlock the rescue operation caused (bottom)

Rush hour traffic halted by climber

BY NICK SMITH
nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

PARTS of Luton town centre were brought to a standstill on Thursday morning during rush hour after a woman scaled the dome above the Telford War roundabout.

Police and firefighters carried out a dramatic rescue of the young woman who had scrambled over railings and climbed on top of the dome which is on a walkway over the busy route.

After climbing to the top of the structure she curled up into a ball.

The road was closed while police officers talked to her.

A fire brigade cherry picker was sent up to rescue her and she was taken to hospital by ambulance.

All roads connected to the junction were brought to a standstill while the rescue operation was carried out, stretching as far back along New Bedford Road as the Icknield Way junction.

Mum 'committed' to terrorism jailed

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A MOTHER-OF-SIX was jailed for five years on Thursday after encouraging people to become suicide bombers on Facebook.

Runa Khan, 35, of Maple Road West, Luton, was determined to radicalise her friends and children into fundamentalist Jihadism in a campaign of hate on the internet and at home. She even her dressed her son as a Mujahideen fighter.

She posted a picture of an explosive vest on the social media site with the message: 'Sisters, if you love your sons, husbands and brothers, prove it by sending them to fight for Allah'.

Khan, who appeared in court wearing a niqab, was snared by counter terrorism police when she passed a secret route for terrorists to get into Syria.

She sent an undercover officer the details of the route from Turkey to Syria that had been passed to her by Al Qaeda fighter Mohammed Nahin Ahmed.

Khan appeared in the dock to be sentenced for four counts of disseminating terrorist publications.

"The purpose of your messages was to further your own deeply entrenched violent ideology to encourage others to pursue violent Jihadist activities including suicide missions, mass killing and other terrorist acts," said Judge Peter Birts QC.

"You are not only deeply radicalised yourself but you were a major radicaliser of others on Facebook and WhatsApp.

"You were deeply committed to radicalising others including your children into violent Jihadist extremism."

The judge said since her arrest, Khan had admitted to probation officers and psychologists that she is committed to the promotion of suicide bombing, beheadings, stoning, and amputation under Islamic Law.

The judge said she was entitled to her 'abhorrent' views, but said she had to be sentenced on British laws for spreading terrorist material.

He jailed her for five years and three months, saying only her guilty plea had saved her from a maximum prison term.

Benefit cheat must repay £114k

A FRAUDSTER admitted illegally claiming almost £115,000 in benefits over seven years.

Carina Gibbs, 41, of Chiltern Road, Dunstable, falsely claimed to be single, when she was in fact living with her partner.

On Thursday she returned to the dock at Luton Crown Court, having pleaded guilty to three charges of benefit fraud on October 28.

Gibbs was sentenced to 12 months in prison, suspended for two years, and ordered to carry out 250 hours of unpaid work, pay a £100 victim surcharge, £250 towards prosecution costs and £114,882.80 in fraudulently claimed benefits.

Gibbs was charged following a joint investigation by Central Bedfordshire Council and the Department for Work and Pensions.

It was revealed she had been living with her partner since May 2, 2006.

Gibbs is the sole carer to her children, and was of previous good character, which were both taken into account during sentencing.

Changes needed to tackle hunger

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

DELAYS in benefits, low wages and energy prices are among the reasons foodbank use has increased in the UK, according to a parliamentary inquiry into hunger.

The report, conducted by MPs and church leaders, said hunger is 'here to stay' and that many families can be overwhelmed by 'a sudden monetary crisis.'

The findings have been welcomed by the Luton Foodbank in Kingsway, with one of its board members Peter Adams saying the organisation had seen the issues highlighted in the report.

He said: "We are thrilled that a report of this reasonably heavyweight cross-parliamentary membership that has raised this issue.

"Looking at all the recommendations, they are all things that we would like to see happening and they are a very wide range set of proposals."

Titled 'Feeding Britain', the report was published on Monday and among its recommendations it says the benefits system could make payments sooner, the minimum wage could be increased and more companies could take up the living wage.

Mr Adams added: "A foodbank by its nature is a very short term thing that meets a deep need but we would like to see ourselves made redundant, so I see nothing in this report that I would not want to support."

Back in June, Luton on Sunday reported that food handouts in the East of England had risen by more than 167 per cent from April 2013 to April 2014.

Living wage now in place for all Hatters staff

CHEERS: 'Living wages' for all at Luton Town FC

LUTON Town has become the first professional football club to adopt the 'Living Wage' as their minimum level of pay.

The club said it has been paying a minimum of £7.85 per hour since December 1, and is in the process of gaining accreditation from the Living Wage Foundation.

This applies to all contracted members of staff in all departments including football, maintenance, retail, catering and administration.

The club said it will absorb the change to staff pay and that there will be no increases in ticket or retail prices as a result.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

STARSTRUCK: Jaymi Hensley (right) with his bandmates

Fans out in force to greet pop stars

EAGER Union J fans gathered outside a Morrisons store in Bedford on Monday for a meet and greet session.

The band, which includes Luton's own Jaymi Hensley, were met by hundreds of adoring fans, some of whom queued outside the supermarket for hours to be among the first to meet them.

Union J have been writing and recording material both in the UK and US with a number of prolific songwriters.

Fears icy route will become death trap

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

CONCERN about a lack of action on a dangerous junction near Caddington has escalated after another car ended up in a ditch.

The Dunstable Road and Millfield Lane junction is notorious for black ice but the problem has been there for many years with little done to improve safety.

Ella Goss spotted the car in the ditch last Saturday, adding to a number she has seen fall foul of the treacherous conditions, including one she was driving.

She said: "Every year we are promised it will be salted as it is on the run."

"I suggested a kerb on that corner which would prevent vehicles sliding into the ditch, but was told there are no plans for improvements."

She is worried that it will cause serious injury, or even death, before it is fixed.

Councillor Brian Spurr,

executive member for community services at Central Bedfordshire Council, said:

"We are aware of residents' concerns about speeding in the Dunstable Road area of Caddington, and are liaising with Caddington Parish Council about applying for funding to install traffic-calming measures there."

"Motorists should drive according to the road and weather conditions and be particularly careful when it is cold and icy."

Taking Shelter seriously

LIKE so many of us, I love Christmas. Quality time with my family is precious, and there's nothing better than spending Christmas Day at home surrounded by the people you love.

It's heartbreaking to think that this Christmas thousands of families won't be able to enjoy the simple luxury of waking up in a safe and secure home they can call their own.

In the South East alone, a shocking 6,217 children will face spending Christmas homeless this year.

Some will be sharing one cramped room of a hostel or B&B with their whole family, with no space to even eat their dinner let alone have a Christmas tree.

I have been a Shelter supporter for several years now, and thankfully the charity's team of expert advisors are there every day a year to make sure no-one has to fight homelessness on their own.

In the last year more than 170,000 people called the Shelter helpline for support, and sadly this Christmas the charity is bracing itself for even more calls from families battling to keep a roof over their heads.

Thankfully, there is a simple way to make sure anyone facing Christmas without a home this year gets the advice and support that they need. Marks & Spencer will be donating five per cent of every item sold from its Christmas food on the Move range to Shelter. This means that by just buying your lunch from the range on the way to

Time to fight fire with fire

THIS week Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service went on strike again - this time for 24 hours. Shame on the coalition government for its refusal to negotiate over pension provision.

The government's insistence that firefighters work operationally until 60 years old to achieve full Pension Provision is unworkable and unsafe for firefighters and the public.

The Fire Brigades Union has demonstrated great patience and has meticulously presented professional evidence to demonstrate the coalition government proposals are unrealistic.

It is out of frustration that the union is taking strike action. The response from the coalition government has been a refusal to talk.

This dispute has been long running and the governments of Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales are prepared to negotiate.

In recognition of our support for our local fire service it is time for our local politicians to call on the coalition government to return to the negotiating table and give the Fire Service proper pension provision.

Graham Tranquada

Bedfordshire man and supporter of our firefighters work, you can help support the charity's free helpline and make sure no call goes unanswered this Christmas.

So as we celebrate the festive season, I hope everyone will remember this simple way to help Shelter be there for every family that needs them.

'Tame response'

I HAVE some sympathy with Tafheen Sharif (article published in LoS on 7/12/14), but when horrific events initiated by Muslim extremists take place it is not sufficient to say 'Not in my Name.'

Such a tame response will do little to combat Islamophobia.

The UN Report on ISIS says that ISIS (an extreme Muslim organisation operating mainly in Iraq and Syria) says 24,000 have been killed and women sold as sex slaves.

The victims are mainly from the Christian communities or Yazidi. Also on a world-wide scale many notable figures such as The Pope, David Cameron and Angela Merkel have said that Christians were the most persecuted religious group in the world today.

I would like to clarify the statement online, 'Muslims have been existing since the start of time'. According to religion-fact.com the Muslim religion was founded in the year 622, so it's about 1,392 years old.

The Christian religion was founded in the year 30, so it's about 1,984 years old.

'Derelict land' a waste

READING the Luton Focus (I think that's what it's called?) I spotted a photo of the 'big guns' of the borough council plus the mayor patting themselves on the backs for building some social housing for local people.

But it doesn't even scratch the surface, does it? How many local youngsters are there still waiting for such housing? Thousands I bet.

From the article they were built on an old garage site - at least the ground was put to good use - but what about sites around Luton in which places have been knocked down and still haven't been built on?

I thought the government had given powers to local councils to force them to do something with this waste ground yet there must be dozens of pieces of ground just left derelict. It wouldn't solve all the housing problem but it's a start.

Figures show increase in 'level four' students

THE percentage of primary school pupils achieving level four or above in reading, writing and maths has risen.

Data published by the Department for Education showed that 70 per cent of pupils in Luton had achieved the expected level in the '3Rs', up from 68 per cent who achieved it last year.

However, this was nine per cent lower than the national average of 79 per cent.

Tennyson Road Primary School pupils registered a 100 per cent success rate in reaching the required 3Rs level.

Following the release of the data, Schools Minister David Laws said he was 'pleased' to see primaries raising their standards.

SUCCESS: Tennyson Road was the only school in Luton to achieve 100 per cent

More pupils attend a good primary school

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE percentage of pupils attending good or outstanding primary schools has risen by six per cent, Ofsted has said.

A report published this week by the education watchdog said inspectors found 76 per cent were at schools in Luton which were good or above, with 83 per cent attending secondary schools of such a standard.

In the East of England, the document noted that primary schools were getting better as 30,000 more children were attending good primary schools.

But while 250,000 students are attending secondary schools that are at least rated good, a further 97,000 pupils are not. Inspectors also found that early years education provided children a 'firm foundation' but that this progression tailed off at the secondary level.

A Luton Council spokeswoman said: "We are delighted to see Luton recognised as having the second highest proportion of good and outstanding secondary schools in the East of England and that progress in mathematics in these schools places Luton in the top 25 per cent nationally."

"Luton was the only authority in the East of England that exceeded the national level for the proportion of children entitled to free school meals attaining at least five GCSEs at grades A*-C including English and maths."

Man, 78, attacked in Wardown Park

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PENSIONER was left in a serious condition after an assault in Wardown Park.

The 78-year-old was attacked by three Asian teenagers at around 3pm on Saturday, December 6 leaving him with a fractured jaw and a bleed to the brain.

One of the teenagers is described as a dark skinned

Asian male, about 16 years old, skinny with long hair on top and short on the side and about 5ft 7 tall.

He was with two other Asian youths who were age about 15 to 17 years old.

It is believed that they may have been in the park for as much as an hour prior to the assault and may have been seen by the ice cream stand.

Detective Sergeant Tom Hamm said: "The victim is in a stable condition in hospital having suffered a fractured jaw and a bleed to the brain.

"This was a very serious assault and we are asking anybody who was in Wardown Park between 1pm and 4pm to contact us if they saw this incident or the three Asian youths in the park before or after the attack took place."

If you witnessed the assault or have any information, call DS Hamm, in confidence, at Bedfordshire Police on 101.

Town mourns loss of 'tireless' worker

TRIBUTES have flowed in following the death of a much valued and respected community worker.

Lenos Wilson (pictured far right), who died last Saturday morning, campaigned for safer streets and neighbourhoods in Luton as chair of The Non-Violence Alliance (TNVA), a group he founded some years ago.

Among the work the group has done, and continues to do, is working with young people in the town involved in gangs; holding peace rallies and patrols during the spate of shootings last year; and trying to improve relations between

LAST weekend a well-respected member of the Luton community, Lenos Wilson, sadly passed away. CARL MUNGAZI spoke to one of his colleagues to find out why he was so popular with people in the town sections of the town's community and the police.

At a meeting on Tuesday, representatives from Luton council, Bedfordshire Police and a number of community organisations held a minute's silence in memory of Mr Wilson.

Nigel Dominique, a TNVA member who has taken over the group since Lenos's death, said their former leader worked 'tirelessly' for people to live in peace'. He said: "I know many people up and down the country and we cannot understand how he did what he did with so much energy. When I talk to the council and the police we stand in awe."

"As a man he was a very talented martial artist and he got to a very high level. He adored Luton and gave it a lot of his time."

"When he went to meetings he just gave it everything. On Tuesday we had a minute's silence in the council chamber and it was very humbling."

"He was an outstanding person and it was a chance for people to just sit down

MISSED: Lenos Wilson, was dedicated to making Luton 'a safe and happy place' and say thank you to a great Lutonian.

"From all the people in the organisation I want to say thank you to him and he's a hard act for me to follow."

"We will try to carry on TNVA where he was taking it. He was a very strong family man, upstanding and very straight-forward. "He would listen to you talk and then give great advice, and he would also defend you. He protected the people around him."

Mr Dominique added: "Lenos did not always wait for other people or organisations, he always wanted to go where the trouble was and he did not care about himself.

"He went straight to where the trouble was and if there was a chance there was something he could do to help, he would do it."

"He never asked anyone for any money, he just got up and did it."

Tributes have also come in for Lenos on TNVA's Facebook page.

One user, Adele Doherty said: "Just heard the news, am shocked and saddened to hear this. Thinking of Lenos, his family and his friends; a wonderful man who gave so much to our community."

Cllr Hazel Simmons, leader of Luton council, said Lenos 'helped to provide support for communities across Luton and we will miss him'.

Pastor Lloyd Denny, chair of Luton in Harmony said: "Lenos had a good heart for Luton especially young people. He worked tirelessly to keep the peace in Luton and to make Luton a safe and happy place for all."

Take the hassle out of festive travel

Christmas can be a hectic time of the year for most of us – especially when present shopping for granny, Auntie Sue, your child's teacher, the dog.

This year, why not take some of the hassle out of your Christmas shopping experience by leaving the car at home and using the bus or train instead?

It's so easy to plan your Christmas shopping journey into Luton on foot or by public transport – and if you don't believe us, try it for yourself right now!

Visit our journey planner at www.travelluton.co.uk to plan your journey by bus or train. Plus, if you don't live too far from the town centre (and don't have too much to carry), it may be quicker than you think to walk.

Visit www.travelluton.co.uk to find out more. Happy shopping!

MERRY: The truck will be in St George's Square from 1pm-9pm

Holidays come with Coke truck

THE much loved Coca-Cola Christmas truck will be coming to Luton this Friday.

The lorry has been on a festive nationwide tour and is returning to the town following its visit last year. Last time around it served chilled Coke and Diet Coke while playing seasonal music.

It was met by hundreds of people who had braved the wet weather to catch a glimpse of the vehicle.

Our Mela named the second best

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON Mela has shown they can compete with the best, coming a narrow second in a national competition.

Furhaad Ahmed, marketing manager for the event, said: "We were told how close it was and are very happy to come a close second."

"The Birmingham festival is almost four times the size as Luton's."

"They get between 80,000 and 90,000 compared to our 20,000, so we are confident that with our expansion in the next year we can go and win the award."

Next year marks the fifteenth year for Luton Mela which will see the festival taking place over two days, instead of one, for the first time.

They are also looking to expand the amount of famous international talent on show, along with focusing on unearthing hidden local gems.

Mr Ahmed added: "We're looking to reach locally and also worldwide."

"We're hoping to find local people to perform next year and will be launching a talent search in March with that aim in the build-up to this year's event."

"We are also looking to bring in world famous acts from India and possibly America to make sure this is the best Mela yet."

Do you want to give something back to your community? If yes, become a school admission appeals panel volunteer!

It's not always possible to offer parents a school place of their choice, but if a place is refused, parents can put their case to a school admission panel to appeal against the decision.

Luton Borough Council is seeking new panel volunteers for school admission appeals.

If you're aged 18 or older and can spare two or three days a month and want to support your community we would like to hear from you.

The role is unpaid but out of pocket expenses will be reimbursed. Appeals are held within school hours, lunch is provided and car parking is available.

A school admission appeals panel is independent from Luton Borough Council and is made up of three people. You can not be a panel member volunteer if you:

- have been appointed as a local authority governor
- are a relative of past or present councillors
- are an employee of Luton Borough Council.

Full training will be provided on 16 January 2015.

Help GREENUP this Christmas

We all create more waste over the holiday period. Glass, cans, Christmas trees, cards, wrapping paper and plastic are all thrown away in dustbins across the country.

With a little thought though, we can all limit the impact that we have on our environment – so why not make a special effort to try and minimise the amount of waste produced over the festive period?

Reduce

- When shopping for presents, choose reusable shopping bags or reuse carrier bags
- Do not overwrap gifts: use a Christmas stocking instead of paper for smaller gifts
- Did you know around a third of all the food we buy ends up being thrown away? Try to make a shopping list and remember to check your cupboards, fridge and freezer before you go shopping. For other tips go to www.lovefoodhatewaste.com

Reuse

- Cut up last year's Christmas cards to create your own unique gift tags!
- Choose a pot-grown tree, which you can replant in the garden and use again next year

Recycle

- Use your green bins for recycling any paper or cards that you dispose of over Christmas and the new year (not suitable for wrapping paper and cards that contain glitter or foil)
- A whole range of jars from cranberry sauce to mincemeat and baby food can all be recycled: just give them a rinse and recycle them in your black box or take them to the nearest bottle bank
- Squash fizzy drink bottles and cardboard packaging to make extra space in your recycling, or take any excess materials to your local recycling centre.

Garden Waste collections will be suspended from Friday 28 November 2014 (last collection) until week commencing Monday 2 March 2015. During that time please use the Household Waste Recycling Centres or home compost your garden waste.

Statement will bring in good changes for area

THE big event of last week in Parliament was the Chancellor's Autumn Statement and I have looked carefully through it to see what impact it will have on our area.

The cut in stamp duty will be warmly welcomed by everyone buying a home locally including the new homes currently being built on the old BTR factory and AC Delco factory sites in Dunstable as well as the new homes being built to the east of Leighton Buzzard.

The buyer of an average family home will pay £4,500 less in stamp duty which is very welcome.

Local pensioners have complained to me about the impact that low interest rates has on their savings.

I know they will welcome the change to allow them to inherit their husband, wife or partner's ISA and keep its tax-free status.

Last week a young man contacted me about trying to find a job and I have put him in touch with both Jobcentre Plus and Central Bedfordshire Council which both do excellent work in helping people find jobs. The abolition of National

THIS week MP for South West Bedfordshire, Andrew Selous, discusses the Autumn Statement

Insurance contributions for employers to take on an apprentice under the age of 25 to help them get the skills they need to get on in life is very welcome and will improve the chances of that young man finding work.

The Friday before last I visited the new Prologis site in Dunstable with Eric Pickles, the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government.

That site will create around 600 jobs which is excellent news for the area.

Many of my constituents work for easyJet at Luton airport and their jobs are even more secure now with the cut in Air Passenger Duty for children under 12 from next May and for children under 16 from 2016.

I am very privileged to represent three market towns as well as 14 villages and all the small shops and businesses in them will welcome the doubling of small-business rates relief. The increase of the £1,000 discount for shops and cafes on the high street to £1,500 is particularly welcome for our area as is the increase in the research and development tax credit for small and medium-sized businesses.

The University of Bedfordshire is very important to our local economy and it is excellent news that student loans of £10,000 for young people undertaking postgraduate Masters degrees will now be backed by the government for the first time.

Many of my constituents have complained to me about how large multinational companies manage to avoid paying UK corporation tax.

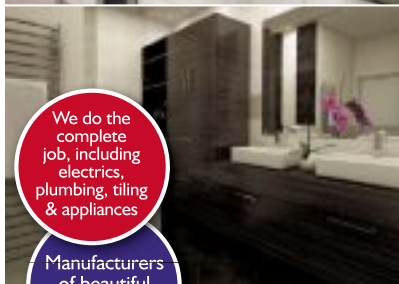

It is this government which has taken the first steps to deal with this issue by introducing a 25 per cent tax on multinationals that artificially divert profits.

We have also made sure that very rich foreign people in the United Kingdom, but not registered here for tax, also pay their fair share.

TWO women have bucked the trends set by high street fashion labels by bringing new styles to the industry, reflecting the diversity of the United Kingdom.

Noreen Abbasi and her cousin Nazia Hasa are part of a trio who run the fashion label Treedolls, which melds different cultures to create an alternative to mainstream fashion, representing a modern Britain.

Mrs Abbasi said: "The idea came to us a couple of years back when we noticed how high street fashion was tailored to certain trends.

"All three of us are British, but none of us are Caucasian and we didn't feel that the brands reflected the diversity we see here, so we set up our own fashion label.

"We started with minimal investment, with no assistance.

"We have learnt every step of the way, by just taking initiative and having no fear.

"Every little detail has been taken care of, from patterns to the designs to picking the fabrics to ordering labels to getting everything manufactured within London.

"We created the website, we do the accounts and personally process each order we get, and we are ensuring this business is growing into the right direction."

However, Mrs Abbasi hasn't always eyed fashion as a career, having spent time working as an investment banker in London.

She said: "I stopped working as an investment banker a few years back when I had children.

"I didn't want to return to that line of work following that as it just wasn't the career for me.

"I've always had an interest in fashion.

"Working in that industry definitely gave me an advantage when it came to Central Bedfordshire is a great place to live and work and we need your help to make it even better! If you know of any potential sites for housing, or think there are settlement boundaries which should be reviewed we would like to hear from you.

Scandal and shame in a Scouse family saga

BOOKS

HIDE HER NAME

By Nadine Dorries

Published by Head of Zeus: £10

SURE, she has the gift of the gab, so she does. Nadine Dorries, the cheeky article, can spin a grand yarn, that she can.

With her tales of paedophilia, rape, adultery, the abuse of vulnerable adults, murder, ghostly apparitions and ritual castration, this novel is a fine and dandy festive filler for yer darned and twice-turned Christmas stocking, so it is. (That's enough of the feckin' Irish blarney. Ed)

Hide Her Name is Dorries' second novel in the trilogy that kicked off with The Four Streets. Set in the back streets of 1950's Liverpool among the seething, tight-knit community of Irish immigrants who live, breed and die like there's no tomorrow (which for some in this meaty saga, there's not), it carries on where The Four Streets left off; with the murder of the much-loved and respected Irish priest, Father James.

Uh-oh, are alarm bells ringing yet? They should be. Nadine has her beautifully manicured finger on the pulse of shockingly scandalous, but real and dandy festive filler for yer darned and twice-turned Christmas stocking, so it is. (That's enough of the feckin' Irish blarney. Ed)

If the dialogue verges dangerously on the cringingly cod, at least the plot rattles along with gusto.

I can't tell how easy it would be to follow the thread of the story if you hadn't read The Four Streets but it seems that most of those who did read the first book, loved it.

So they'll be rushing to find out what has happened to poor little up-the-spout Kitty, mad as a box of frogs Alice, the drunken Da, Big Paddy, and all the other colourfully drawn but stereotypical characters.

And once I'd started on the first chapter, I was keen to know too.

Because, just like the first outing in this O'Dorries family saga, however clichéd some of the descriptions, however vacuous some of the language, Hide Her Name is a page-turner.

Which is good news for the publishers and even better news for Nadine whose final book in the trilogy is due out next summer.

So there we are; Kitty, who has spent months mangling sheets and being bullied by the nuns in a Magdalene laundry has already laid the foundation for the plot.

Whether Nadine will be chosen to represent Mid Beds in next May's general election or not, the Tory MP is clearly on a mission to establish yet another successful career, this time as a novelist.

To be sure, to be sure, would ye ever, bejapers, believe that?

JUDY RILEY

It's the right time of year to settle down for a good read

What could be nicer than finding a book that you really want in your Christmas stocking? We asked three well-known local people what title they'd like Santa to bring them this year

Ottilie Quince: Sports injury specialist

The Chimp Paradox by Dr Steve Peters

"Being a cyclist and lifelong sport and fitness enthusiast it's a book that helps teach you about controlling your 'inner chimp'."

"How to get the most out of everyday things but specifically, for me, for my training sessions and races, by learning to understand what makes your brain tick. Mind over matter, pushing boundaries and making things count, helping you to be a happier, healthier and more confident person."

Paul Jolly: Musician and record label owner

Anselm Kiefer by Daniel Arasse

"This is a book looking at the influences on the painter/sculptor Anselm Kiefer, whose recent exhibition at the Royal Academy was a life-changing experience in terms of understanding the power that the visual arts can bring."

Helen Woollams: Fashion designer

Vogue: the gown by Jo Ellison

"I would love to find this book in my stocking - though granted, it may completely fill it! It's a glorious, veritable glamour feast. This visual sourcebook will have me pondering for hours. . .!"

Club to end the year with a night of music . . . and all that jazz

MUSIC

JADE VISIONS

The Bear Club
Thursday, December 18

AS the year draws to a close there is just one scheduled gig remaining at Luton's jazz and blues venue, The Bear Club.

On Thursday they welcome back Jade Visions, who were warmly received when they made their debut appearance at the club in October.

The three-piece group is made up of pianist Craig Stallwood, Helen Boyea who plays double bass and drummer Steve Seal, who combine to produce, swinging, fiery and feelgood jazz music.

The group plays jazz standards with a few twists, seeking to 'find the emotion inside the original compositions'.

Craig and Steve are well known in the area for their work with another trio, Hitchin-based Jazzface, who have also played The Bear Club recently, taking to the stage at the end of last month.

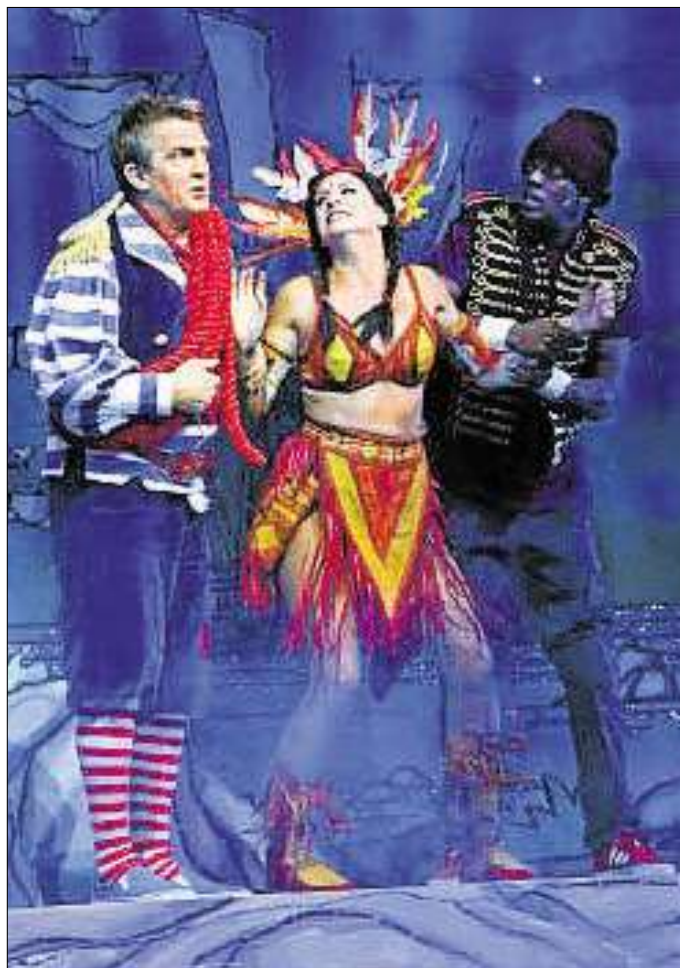

Doors for the performance open at 7pm, with the music itself starting at 8pm.

Tickets cost £5 or £4 for concessions, while entry is free to club members.

They can either be bought online at www.the-bear.club or on the door on Thursday.

This is the last event of the year open to the public, with the club's final night of the year the following evening, with a 'Hibernation Party' open to club members only.

The Bear Club will then reopen its doors next year, with the first event of 2015 taking place on Friday, January 31.

Peter's awfully big adventure

PANTO REVIEW

PETER PAN

Milton Keynes Theatre
Until January 11

IF for some bizarre reason Christmas has so far passed you by unnoticed, I can tell you where it's hanging out.

All of the fun, the sparkle and the magic of the season, having been packaged up prettily, has now exploded onstage at MK Theatre in this year's production of Peter Pan.

J M Barrie's story of the boy who never grows up is not a pantomime in the traditional sense. There are no princesses, Shetland ponies or gruesomely made-up blokes wearing outrageously hideous frocks; thank goodness.

There is, however, the very stuff of childhood. It is a world of make-believe; of pirates and redskins, wild animals, mermaids and fairies and, more than anything, of adventures in a faraway place.

In Eric Potts' adaptation, while some of the mystery of Barrie's vision has flown out of the window (along with Peter and Wendy?), the humour and spectacle of director Cal McCrystal's show more than makes up for it.

From the moment the curtain goes up the stage glitters like a Christmas tree, the music causes your heart to lift and the action bursts into life with some of the most jaw-dropping dance routines you'll ever see.

The scene-setting intro, in the Darling household nursery, is more often than not a trial you have to get through before the fun really begins.

Not any more. With Bradley Walsh as some kind of grumpy old Nanny McPhee-alike, left to settle the kids down for the night while the parents go out on the town, the jokes and silliness come thick and fast.

When Peter swoops down on the unsuspecting children, in a flying sequence that is better than any I've seen before, you know you're in for a very special experience. And a certain amount of 'Pan'demonium too of course!

DAY TO FORGET: Mark Cullen tries to bring down the ball at the Globe Arena

LUTON TOWN

TEN-man Luton Town played all the wrong notes and in completely the wrong order as they conceded the inaugural Eric Morecambe Trophy in their first ever defeat to the Shrimps. More importantly, it was the Hatters' second successive reverse on the road in League Two without scoring a goal.

They never looked like changing that even before a farcical 92 seconds saw captain Steve McNulty collect two cautions and exit stage right even before half an hour had been played. Manager John Still said: "I thought they were both fouls. Only the referee decides if they're going to be yellow cards.

"The first one was. I don't know about the second."

His side's disastrous first half saw Morecambe's Kevin Ellison and Mark Hughes net either side of that dismissal, before Padraig Amond added a third in the 82nd minute.

And it could have been a cricket score had the hosts been a sharper outfit that hadn't just been knocked out of the FA Cup to non-league Dover, returning to league action having taken just four points in their last five outings at the Globe Arena.

Luton simply began as out of tune as the trumpet-wielding Shrimps supporter who tried midway through the first period to blast out the famous Morecambe and Wise theme song 'Bring Me Sunshine'.

But it was nothing that the route one home side were doing; Luton's slapstick approach was something they inflicted on themselves.

Even before the red card they'd already staked their claim for worst performance of the season with poor passing, bad control and drowsy defence, which accounted for Ellison's 17th minute opener.

When McNulty's two moments of madness arrived, there was a good case for the defender, as the last man, to depart from the pitch on 26 minutes. But Luke Wilkinson should take some of the blame as he sold his captain horrifically short with a pass, which the Morecambe scorer knocked past him before being scythed down.

But the second booking was sheer stupidity – the skipper slamming needlessly into Paul Mullin on the halfway line and leaving his troops to battle on without him for the next 62 minutes.

It was the fourth time in his career that referee Andy D'Urso had sent off a Hatters player inside half an hour.

Making it to half time 1-0 down would have been relative success but they even missed their cue there when Hughes rose highest late DUNSTABLIANS lost 19-13 to Peterborough yesterday, a team just above them at the foot of the Midlands Two East South table.

"It was a ten-point game," said Dees prop Simon George. "We made decisions that were consistent with the pressure of our league position. We're at the mid-point in the season, so we now turn around and play everyone again, starting next week against Biggleswade."

Dees' points came from tries from Stu Calder and Josh Klymyzn, with a drop goal from Peter Thompson.

Elsewhere, Stockwood Park were beaten 33-14 on the road at Daventry, despite being level as the game entered its final five minutes.

Stockwood went 14-0 up as first Michael Powell crossed the whitewash, and then Phillip Docherty touched down, both converted by Steve Pollock.

The home side ate away Stockwood's advantage through an unconverted try and two penalties to go in 14-11 down at the turnaround.

A 55th minute penalty was converted by Daventry to level things up, which was how it remained until the 73rd minute when Stockwood conceded a converted try. The home side put the game beyond doubt during the 13 minutes of injury time, which were certainly not lucky for Stockwood as they conceded a further 14 points as they pushed to get back into the game by way of two converted tries from their hosts.

"There were some great performances," said Park's Mark Lovell.

"Ben Griffin was immense, as was Martin Rowe, and 13 minutes of stoppage time – first time I've seen the like"

Luton RFC enjoyed a fine 27-7 win away at Ipswich in London One North – their first victory on their travels this season. They are seventh in the division.

GOING AROUND: Nathan Doyle bends the ball around Jamie Devitt

COLLISION COURSE: Shaun Whalley takes a blow to the back on to head beneath Mark Tyler.

"What do you think of it so far?" was the famous Eric Morecambe catchphrase and, had the late comedian been in the directors' box, once the whistle did come, his response would have been a decisive, "Rubbish!" – delivered without even the slightest smirk.

Alex Lacey replaced Andy Drury at the interval and 24 seconds into the restart Mark Cullen forced Shrimps keeper Scott Davies into his first save. It was better, but that was as good as it got.

The two players that returned to the starting line-up – Shaun Whalley and Jake Howells – combined just before the hour with the latter heading just over.

It doubled Luton's attempts on goal tally but there was no sense that the hosts' clean sheet was in danger of being dirtied, even once strikers Ricky Miller and Ross Lafayette were introduced to the attack.

It was a brave pair of substitutions from Still to try to rescue something from the contest but instead, from the hour mark, they looked in increasing danger of conceding. Tyler denied Ellison three times and Jamie Devitt once before substitute Amond netted from close range.

Fraser Franks saw a late header saved by Davies as the curtain call to a slightly improved second half, but Luton could bring no sunshine to the proceedings.

According to reports, 63 per cent of television programming this Christmas will be populated by old re-runs, with perennial festive favourite Morecambe and Wise a prominent feature. For Eric's beloved Luton a repeat of their heaviest defeat of the campaign will be noted down and shelved away as a classic video nasty.

Burnett strikes late to rescue a point against the Bulls

FOOTBALL

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

A LATE goal for Tony Burnett salvaged a point for Dunstable Town yesterday at home to beleaguered Hereford United in the Southern Premier League.

The Bulls face an uncertain future, having recently been banned by the FA from all footballing activities after their owners failed to comply with regulations, only for the ban to be overturned allowing them to play yesterday's fixture.

The visitors started brightly, creating a number of chances.

A long range effort from Gary O'Neill almost caught out Luke Chambers in the Dunstable goal, before Serge Mor Diop fired wide after pouncing on a rebound.

The early pressure soon paid off for Hereford, who took the lead after 22 minutes when Dan Sullivan collected the ball on the edge of the area and coolly fired home past Chambers.

Dunstable had chances of their own, with in form striker Inih Effiong casing most of the problems for the Hereford defence.

Burnett threatened early in the second half, having a shot cleared off the line by Paul Mahony.

But it didn't take him long to find the scoresheet, popping up near the death to stop Hereford's possible last hurrah from being a win.

Soon after Adam Watkins fired the ball into the side netting, Burnett came up with the goods with 80 minutes on the clock.

He unleashed a powerful drive at goal, which the goalkeeper got plenty of but the sheer venom with which the ball was struck was enough to see it hit the back of the net.

Hereford almost scored a late winner, but Chambers was the hero, tipping Sullivan's effort over the bar to give Dunstable a share of the spoils.

In the Southern League Division One Central, Barton recorded an impressive 2-0 win at Godalming Town, with goals from Keshi Anderson and Rhys Hoenes.

AFC Dunstable saw their trip to Leverstock Green in the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division called off due to a waterlogged pitch.

In Division Two, Kent Athletic were 4-3 away winners at Mursley United.

Crawley Green are through to the next round of the Bedfordshire Senior Trophy after a 2-0 win over Potton United but The 61 FC (Luton) lost 3-1 to Langford.

Hatters were naïve admits Still after heavy reverse

MUCH TO PONDER: John Still watches on at Morecambe. His side are fourth in League Two. Picture: Gareth Owen

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

JOHN Still was left to rue naïve defending as his ten-man Luton side slumped 3-0 at Morecambe – their heaviest defeat of the campaign.

Veteran striker Kevin Ellison put the Shrimps ahead on 17 minutes with Town already suffering a case of the away day jitters but then Hatters captain Steve McNulty saw red with two bookings 92 seconds apart, just before the half hour mark.

It left Town with a mountain to climb and they conceded again on the stroke of half time to a Mark Hughes header.

"We defended naïvely, made too many errors and didn't play the conditions," said manager Still.

"We spoke about it before the game, about playing in the other team's half. We didn't."

"We never looked secure at all and didn't give ourselves a chance to attack because we weren't secure enough."

"There were too many errors, if I'm being honest. We weren't collective but if we had have been we'd have given ourselves a chance in the second half."

"We spoke about how difficult it would be, defending that end, but we didn't listen, so I have to take responsibility for that, I'm the manager."

"People were given instructions and never followed instructions. I have to look at that and find out why it was the case."

"It was poor defending, naïve defending and that's not just the back people. Anyone in our final third defended naïvely."

There was a slight improvement after the interval, with Luton's top scorer Mark Cullen forcing Morecambe keeper Scott Davies into his first save in the opening seconds.

But the hosts made their one-man advantage count and Padraig Amond stroked in from close range in the 82nd minute.

Still said: "In the second half we did better with ten men than we did in the first half with 11."

But the boss refused to be too downhearted despite a second successive defeat on the road without scoring.

"If I look at how we've performed this season, I'm absolutely delighted," he said. "If I look at how we performed today, I'm disappointed."

The game did mark the return from injury of striker Ross Lafayette, who replaced Cullen on 68 minutes, for his first appearance since early September and a hernia operation.

"I feel great," he said on his fitness, adding: "Now it's just [about getting] minutes. Prior to my injury I was just starting to get there and to really knock on the door for a starting place."

"Getting some goals is my next objective but I'm not really fussed as long as the team is winning, that's the main thing."

Town will aim to do that on Tuesday in their FA Cup second round replay at home to Bury, with a trip to either Cambridge or Mansfield awaiting the victor.
